

Curriculum Vitae

BONILLA, JAVIER

CURRENT POSITION

Name of company	Job position
....ACCIONA Construcción; Business Development & International Affairs Manager – Innovation & Technology Division

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Javier Bonilla holds a Masters Degree in Civil Engineering. He is the Business Development & International Affairs Manager for innovation at ACCIONA's Innovation & Technology Division. Under his current position, his mission is to define the strategy of the division in relation to the European Research Programme or the establishment of an international partners' co-operation network among others. Mr. Bonilla has more than 12 years of experience in innovation and research, and he has been the project manager of several research projects aimed to the development of new technologies in construction having been involved in the EC collaborative research programme since FP5. He has an active role in several European Research associations, being a member of the Presidium at the European Construction Technology Platform where he has been involved since its nearly inception, as well as being a member of the Partnership Board of the EeB cPPP.

EDUCATION AND TRAININGS:

M. Sc. Civil Engineering, Madrid, 2005

Certification as Project Manager Professional (PMP) since 2014

EXTRAS:
